WESTERN GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

Chicago, August 31.—Miss Alva Sanders, of Midlothian, won her match in the women's Western golf championship semi-final to-day, defeating Mrs. Percy Manchester, of Skokie, 2 and 1. Miss Caroline Painter, also of Midlothian, defeated Mrs. E. H. Whitcomb, of Milwaukee, 2 and 1. The finish of the match being spectacular. When Miss Painter and Mrs. Whitcomb reached the ninth, Miss Painter was five down. As soon as they were pointed toward the eighteenth hole, Miss Painter won the tenth hole and the event. The match was halved, after which the Midlothian player took the next five holes.

ESTIMATES ASKED FOR

Government to Provide Homes for the Foreign Representatives.
Washington, August 31.—Ambassadors and Ministers of the American foreign service have been instructed by the State Department to submit estimates for construction of purchase by the United States of homes for them in every foreign capital of the world. This is in accordance with recent authority by Congress, by providing for government-owned embassies and legations, in order to reduce the expense of the enormous expense which in some cases exceeds their salaries. Congress limited the cost of any embassy to $150,000. The State Department officials believe that the estimates for construction of purchase will be inadequate to afford abodes in keeping with the dignity of the national flag. The large capital of $250,000 or $300,000 will be needed. With the $150,000 limitation, it is thought the country of seeking a purchase of American legations can be inaugurated in some of the small Central or South American countries.

WILL MAP BEST ROUTES

Motorist Leaves New York on Run to Pacific Coast.
New York, August 31.—The mapping out of the best routes for a transcontinental tour for motorists, which is the object of a 12,000-mile trip by Thomas W. Wilby, of the Touring Club of America, starting from New York to-day. The tour will occupy about eighty days, including numerous detours. Particular attention will be paid to making correct maps of the middle West routes, and Mr. Wilby will also map out a new Pacific slope route from San Francisco to the Mexican border, while on his homeward run a route new in many respects will be laid out from Los Angeles across Arizona and New Mexico to Kansas City, St. Louis and Washington. Mr. Wilby is accompanied by his wife.

Goobers Probably Will Tackle Colts

Joe Laughlin has come across and has consented to take charge of the Petersburg team for the intercity series between Richmond and Petersburg, provided suitable dates can be arranged. Under the present plan it is probable that games will be played here on Thursday and Friday of next week, with the game in Petersburg on Saturday and the following Monday. If it is determined in which city the deciding game will be played, the teams will be glad to welcome the games, and it is practically a certainty that they will draw large crowds than any series played during the season.

BALTIMORE TO PLAY IN AMATEUR GAMES

Arrangements Completed Admitting Maryland Athletic Club to Represent Monumental City. First Double-Header in Washington Next Monday.

Data of Games in Amateur Series
CONTESTANTS.
Baltimore Athletic Club, Baltimore.
Cornell or Bankers, Washington.
DATE OF SERIES.
September 4 (Labor Day)—At Washington American League Park.
First game: M. A. C. vs. Washington; second game: Richmond vs. Washington.
September 9—At Richmond—First game: Washington vs. Richmond; second game: Baltimore vs. Richmond.
September 16—At Baltimore—First game: Washington vs. Baltimore; second game: Richmond vs. Baltimore.

Baltimore, represented by the Maryland Athletic Club, has been admitted as a contestant in the intercity baseball series which will begin in Washington next Monday. Richmond, therefore, instead of having to defeat only Washington, will now have to vanquish Baltimore, but in return will come the amateur baseball championship of three cities instead of two. Final arrangements for letting in Baltimore were completed last night. The Maryland Athletic Club has met all of the requirements and will place in the field a purely amateur team. Under the latest plan, instead of Richmond playing Washington a double-header Monday, Baltimore will play one of the games. The same will hold when Baltimore and Washington come here on September 2. Richmond will play each team one game, and then the following Saturday both Richmond and Washington will journey to Baltimore, where each will play a game. Should a tie result, the city in which the final and deciding game will be played will be determined after the games in Baltimore. In Washington the amateur championship has not yet been determined, though it is positive that either the Bankers or the Cornell team will win the honor. The Cornell team is composed largely of men who have at one time or another seen service in the professional ranks. This is true to some extent of the Bankers. So it can be gathered that Dr. Parker's team will be up against a strong proposition. Of the Baltimore team little is known except that it has played some excellent games and has won a large majority of them. The fact that the Maryland Athletic Club is composed only of amateurs is sufficient guarantee that the men are eligible to play. It will be a pretty three-cornered fight, and there is no positive way to form an opinion at this time as to which team will win. The Battle Axe aggregation will depend on speed and youth, large factors in baseball. While the locals have not and the experienced men of the larger cities enjoy, they have a record of which any team can well be proud. The Battle Axe will line up as follows: Degeet, shortstop; Schmidt, left field; Joe Boehling, Strain, Hinckman, pitcher; Burt, right field; Dowden, second base; J. T. Whitfield, first base; Bowers, center field; Lee Whitfield, right field; F. Boehling, catcher. The Battle Axe team finished the season with losing only one game, having won eighteen. Of the pitchers, Boehling has the best record, having won twelve and lost only one. Strain won two and lost none. Hinckman has not yet pitched, but is in good condition, and Whitfield, who alternates in the field, has worked in seven games and has brought home the bacon in six. Interest increases with each day, and now that the Orioles town is in the battle the interest is all the more intense. Baltimore has all along wanted to get at Washington, but there was always a hitch of some kind. Now that all is satisfactorily arranged, the Monumental lads will have their chance.

ENTHUSIASM MARKS CLOSE OF HORSE SHOW

Warrenton, in Spite of Mud, Turns Out to See Finish of Two-Day Meet—Mrs. Allen Potts Gains Applause for Splendid Riding Over Jumps.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Warrenton, Va., August 31.—With the ring and grounds of the Warrenton Horse Show inches deep in mud, making both jumping and harness racing almost impossible, the last day of the local exhibit took place, and was well attended. The opening of the show was delayed until 11 o'clock, but continued through the day with much enthusiasm, and but for the weather conditions the attendance of the day would have been a matter of record. Nothing serious in the way of accidents was noted. Mrs. Allen Potts was the only lady to ride in the class of heavy hunters of nine entries, and made a brilliant performance on Willow King, taking the four jumps in five inches of mud without even a rap, and amid the applause of the crowd was given the red ribbon. Mrs. Potts was also the only lady driving in the large class of sporting tandems, and was second in the class of horses in single harness. Miss Dupont, Mrs. Potts, Miss Price, Miss Read, Miss Swartz and Mrs. Morris drove the entries of the ladies' harness horses. The class of ladies' hunters was the class of greatest interest of the day, and contained thirteen entries. Mrs. J. Morris won on Keewick, Mrs. Potts on Willow King took second place in the Corinthian hunters, riding in her own aunt colors. Consolation class was won by Julian Morris's initial sumner. TOOK HER LIFE AT SEA

Woman on Way to Join Husband Here Jumps Overboard.
New York, August 31.—The husband of Justina Flight, who is waiting for her to join him on an Arkansas farm, will wait in vain. When the steamer Rhein arrived here to-day from Bremen, her captain reported that Mrs. Flight jumped overboard early on the morning of August 20, and was dead when taken out of the water. It is thought the woman was demented. The chief officer was on the bridge at 5:38 A. M. when the alarm was given that a woman had jumped overboard. The steamer checked her speed and swung round in a circle while a boat was lowered and the crew picked up the body. Mrs. Flight was buried at sea. She was thirty-seven years old and formerly resided at Baden, Germany.

Double-Header For Saturday

Wet grounds prevented the game here yesterday between the Colts and Red Sox. Every effort was made to get the grounds in condition, but the heavy downpours of the day previous made it an utter impossibility. Unless more rain comes there will be a game this afternoon at the regular hour. Verbout and Lucia will be the battery for the Colts. The morning double-header will be the offering, the first game beginning at 2:45. Hogue and Lucia will start, and if Ira is in good shape he will be sent after the second game. Should he show signs of weakening, Hanks will do the stunting, with Cowan at the receiving end.

CAPITALISTS WANT LOCAL FRANCHISE

Anxious to Treat With Owner Bradley if He Will Name Fair Price for Property—Intend to Build Plant Modern in Every Way.

A strong probability exists that the Richmond franchise in the Virginia League may pass from the hands of Owner W. B. Bradley, and that before another baseball season is inaugurated the local team will belong to some one else.

It is known that capital represented by men whose names are withheld for the present is anxious to get a foothold in the baseball game in Richmond. These men have the money, and are ready to treat with Bradley, provided he is willing to meet them half way. They are willing to pay a fair price for the franchise, but would not be willing to pay any exorbitant amount.

Mr. Bradley said last night that he would be perfectly willing to talk the matter over with any one who wanted to buy. "I have an interest in many things," was the way he expressed it, "and I do not know of anything in which I am interested on which I would not name a price." Naturally, he would not stipulate a figure, although he did say that he had an offer earlier in the season, but did not think the amount named was enough.

With the Virginia League, what would be the purpose of the new owners with regard to the club is not known, though it appears likely that if Mr. Bradley and these men get together and a sale is effected, Richmond will, at least for another season, continue in the Virginia League. Without divulging secrets, or without betraying any confidence, it can be stated that Cornelius McGillicuddy, who is none other than the famous Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics, thinks well of the franchise as a baseball town, and it is whispered, would not object to having a friendly connection down in this neighborhood.

The whole question hinges on the price. The Richmond franchise is undoubtedly a valuable piece of property. It is a physical impossibility for Richmond to lose money in the Virginia League. The only worry, if worry it can be called, is how much can be made.

Unfortunately the condition of the local plant keeps away many patrons. The present owner is to be excused somewhat for not improving the park and seating accommodations because of the fact that the park is owned by the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railway, and that corporation would not give a lease for a term of years. The best that can be obtained is a ninety-day contract, by which is meant that the lessee can be made to move at any time upon being given ninety days' notice.

To Build Modern Plant.
Should the people who are making the bid for the franchise come into control it will be their purpose to purchase a plot of ground on the car line and build thereon a modern baseball plant, one which will compare favorably with any in the country. It would simply be investing in a piece of property which is sure to bring its return in time, and then should the owners desire or be able to secure a franchise in a league of higher class, there will not be the added expenditure of getting the plant in shape.

Of course, nothing definite has yet been done. The talk is simply the repeating in view of the fact that the patrons of the game are anxious that Richmond should come a little nearer having the kind of baseball which the size and prestige of the town seem to

CLUB MAY LOSE FIGHT LICENSE

New York, August 31.—Steps that may lead to the revocation of the license of the Madison Square Athletic Club, under which the fight was held last night between Matt Wells and "Knockout" Brown, were taken to-day by Fire Commissioner Johnson. Patrick Powers, one of the fight permitting 200 persons, was cited for violating the law during the bout he had violated a provision of the New York City charter.

A copy of the notice was sent to the corporation's counsel as the basis for a possible legal action. The fight is simply the repeating in view of the fact that the patrons of the game are anxious that Richmond should come a little nearer having the kind of baseball which the size and prestige of the town seem to
